Videoskript "David and Red: English Breakfast"

Auntie: There you are, David. Here's your breakfast.
David: Oh, thank you very much, Aunty.
Auntie: Enjoy.
David: Thanks.
This is a traditional English breakfast called a "full breakfast".
People don't eat this every day for breakfast.
But people often have an English breakfast at the weekend.
It's made up of fried egg, fried tomatoes, fried toast, fried bacon, sausages, and – best of all – baked beans, which are beans in a very tasty tomato ketchup sauce.
And when people eat an English breakfast, they also have a cup of English tea to go with it.
