

1. Getting ready to go

David: OK. What else do I need? Oh, yes! My Red socks... And my underpants... And my pyjamas... Oh, hello, Red. How are you? Oh, sorry, Red!

David: Everything OK?

David: Oh... This is my suitcase, Red... Yes. I'm going on holiday, Red. To England.

Red: Holiday? England?

David: Yes, Red. I'm going to England to visit some friends.

Red: Friends?

David: Yes. Red, here are my friends. This is Debs. And this is Debs' husband, Darryl. Debs and Darryl have two children. This is Charlie. Charlie is six years old. And this is Charlie's sister. Her name is Holly. She's ten. Charlie and Holly are brother and sister.

Red: Red – holiday!

David: Sorry, Red?

Red: I want to go to England.

David: Red, you want to go to England?

Red: Go – England!

David: Oh, I'm not sure, Red.

Red: Holly – Charlie – David – Red – England!

David: I don't know, Red. I don't know.

Red: Holiday, holiday – go - Red!

David: OK, Red! Go and pack your bag.

Red: Ready!

David: OK, Red...

2. At the harbour

Red: England!!!

David: England?

Red: England!!!

David: Where?

Red: There! England!

David: That's not England. That's a ship.

Red: A ship?

David: Yes, Red! England is an island... Look, Red: this is the sea. And this is England. An island. And the boat will take us across the sea to England.

Red: Oooo!

David: Oh, Red, we'd better go. The boat is about to leave. Come on!

3. On board

Red: David! David! England! England!

David: England? Where?!

Red: There!

David: Where?

Red: There!

David: There?

Red: Yeah, there!

David: No, Red, England is over there.

Red: Where?

David: Over there.

Red: England.

David: And we won't be there for an hour.

Red: Oooo!

David: Come on, Red. I have to go to the toilet.

4. Going for a pee

David: So, Red, I'm going to the toilet.

Red: Hmm. Toilet.

David: Do you want to go to the toilet?

Red: Errrr... No. No toilet.

David: No?

Red: No.

David: Are you sure, Red?

Red: No toilet.

David: OK, Red. Then wait here... Wait here, Red. OK...? Just wait...

Red: Wait.

David: Red, wait!

Red: Wait here, Red.

David: Wait, Red...

Red: Wait...

David: Wa- ... Red! Oh, Red!

5. Looking for Red

Duty free shop

David: Hello! My name's David. I'm looking for a friend of mine called Red.

Lady: OK... What does he look like?

David: Well... He's small... and he's red... Well, actually he's a small red sock.

Lady: A red sock?

David: Yes.

Lady: OK... I think he went that way...

David: That way?

Lady: That way.

David: Thanks a lot! Bye, bye!

Ferry map

David: Oh, Red! Where are you, Red?

Newspaper readers

David: Hello, excuse me. My name is David, and I'm looking for a friend of mine called Red. He's a small red sock. Have you seen him anywhere?

Passengers: Yes... He went that way.

On deck

David: Red? Where are you, Red?

At the information desk

David: Hello! Excuse me!

Man: Hello, can I help you?

David: Yes. I'm looking for my friend. Red. I've lost him.

Man: Red?

David: Yes.

Man: Would you like me to do a tannoy to ask him to come here?

David: That would be great. Thank you very much.

Man: Hello, this is a passenger announcement. Could Red – Red – please come to the information desk?

Man: Wait a minute.

David: Maybe it's better if I do it. Can I try?

Man: You shouldn't really.

David: Red? Red? Can you hear me, Red? Red! Come to the information desk. Red? Red...!
Oh, Red! There you are! Hello, Red!

Red: David! England!

David: England? Where?

Red: There!

David: Oh, Red! England!

8. The white cliffs of Dover

David: Oh, Red! Over the sea to the island: England!

Red: England!

David: Yes, Red. That's England.

Red: Oooo! England....!

THE END