

1. On the train

David: Oh, Red! Isn't this fun?

Red: Fun!

David: It's like going on holiday, isn't it?

Red: Holiday!

David: I'm really looking forward to seeing London.

Red: London! London!

Ticket inspector: Good morning! May I check your tickets, please?

David: Good morning!

Ticket inspector: How are you?

David: Fine, thank you. Here are our tickets...

Ticket inspector: Thank you very much... OK... Where are you travelling to, sir?

David: We're travelling to London. We're going on a trip.

Ticket inspector: Oh, lovely. Unfortunately this service is going to Scotland... So you have got on the wrong service, I'm afraid.

David: To Scotland?

Ticket inspector: To Scotland... yeah...

Red: London! Holiday!!

David: Oh, Red! We're on the wrong train!

Red: Wrong train!

David: Come on, Red! Quickly!

2. On the right train

David: Red, this is the RIGHT train!

Red: Right train! London!

David: We almost went to Scotland... But I don't want to go to Scotland. I want to go on a trip to London.

Red: Holiday in London...

David: Yeah, like a holiday.

David: Red? Are you OK?

Red: No. Red – thirsty.

David: Are you thirsty...? I have some drinks here... Here you are... There you are. But only one, Red. Because if you drink more than one then you have to go to the toilet.

Red: Thirsty!

David: You're still thirsty? But, Red, you can't have two drinks.

Red: Thirsty!

David: OK, then. One more. But only one! Here you are, Red... I can't wait to get to London. We can go to Buckingham Palace and to Tower Bridge and to the Tower of London.

David: Finished?

Red: Thirsty!

David: Red, no more drinks.

Red: Thirsty!

David: No, Red! Then you have to go to the toilet, and we're going to London... No, Red, no more drinks.

Announcement: Good morning, everybody, and welcome to the 9 o'clock train to London Paddington. This train will be arriving in London on time at 10am. The time now is exactly half past nine.

David: Oh, OK... Red! Red! No more drinks! Stop it!

Red: Thirsty!

David: Red!

3. Big Ben

David: Look, Red, it's Big Ben! It's one o'clock. My watch is right on time... It says here: "Big Ben is the biggest clock in London..." It's very big. "And everybody in London tells the time with Big Ben"... Very interesting! Red, what's the matter?

Red: Toilet!

David: Toilet!

Red: Toilet!

David: You need to go to the toilet?

Red: Yeah.

David: But, Red, there isn't a toilet around here...

Red: Toilet!

4. Tower Bridge

David: Red, listen to this... Tower Bridge is over one hundred years old. And when big ships come along the River Thames, the bridge opens to let the ships go through.

Red: Tower Bridge! Toilet!

David: Tower Bridge isn't a toilet.

5. The London Eye

Red: Toilet! Toilet!

David: Red, I'm taking a photo of the London Eye!

6. Public convenience

Red: Ha, ha, ha! Toilet!

Red: Oh, Red, I'm sorry: it's out of order!

7. The tube

Red: Toilet!

David: Wait, Red! That's not the toilet! That's the underground!

Red: Toilet!

8. On the River Thames

David: Look, Red! The River Thames ... Isn't London beautiful?

Red: Toilet! Toilet!

David: Oh, Red! St. Paul's Cathedral ...

Red: Toilet!

9. Relief the Queen

David: Red? Red? Where are you Red? Oh, Red, there you are! Where have you been?

Red: Queen Elisabeth.

David: Elisabeth? In Buckingham Palace?!

Red: Yes. Toilet – Queen.

David: You went to the toilet in Buckingham Palace?!

Red: Ha, ha.

David: Red! I don't believe you!

Red: Yes, yes, yes.

David: You didn't go to the toilet in Buckingham Palace!

David: Oh, Red, what's that? It's a photograph. Of Queen Elisabeth. And you. On the toilet!
Red!
