

1. Passing the time

David: Red? Stop watching television, please...

David: Red? Red! What are you watching? Red, what is this?

Red: Television!

David: I know it's television! ... But what programme are you watching?

Red: Television!

David: Red, you've been watching television for two hours! It's enough! No more television.

Red: Television, television, television!

David: No, Red. You need a hobby.

Red: Red's hobby – television.

David: No, Red. Watching television isn't a hobby.

Red: Red's hobby – television.

David: A hobby is something you do... Like reading books, or going for walks, or building models... Look, Red, I made this aeroplane. And I made this car. That's my hobby – building models. Red, what's your hobby...? And remember: watching television isn't a hobby.

Red: Red – no – hobby.

David: No... Come on, Red, let's find you a hobby.

2. Looking for a hobby

Debs: OK. Three... One, two, three... Your go, Mum.

Muriel: One...

Debs: You can go next to me.

David: Oh, look, Red! They're playing snakes and ladders... Playing games is a good hobby.

Red: Television.

Debs: We love snakes and ladders... You can go down the snakes and up the ladders.

David: Yes, Red, you can play games.

Red: Television!

David: No, Red, not television.

Debs: Would you like to have a go?

Red: No! Television!

David: Oh, come on, Red. You can roll the dice.

Muriel: You should choose a colour. Look, there's a Red there...

Red: OK...

Red: I don't like playing games!

David: Oh, Red!

3. Let's get loud

David: Hello, Darryl!

Darryl: Oh, hi, Dave!

David: What are you doing here?

Darryl: I'm preparing my car for a race this weekend.

David: Oh, right... Is that your hobby?

Darryl: Well, it's one of my hobbies...

David: Because we're looking for a hobby for Red.

Darryl: Oh, OK...

David: Red, maybe you could race cars as well?

Red: Oh! Race cars!

David: OK... Well maybe... Can you start the motor?

Darryl: Absolutely. Stand back and I'll start it right now.

Red: I don't like racing cars.

4. Over the bridge

David: I know, Red, what about fishing?

Red: Fishing?

David: Fishing is a good hobby.

5. At the stables

David: Or table tennis? Table tennis is a good hobby.

Red: No. No table tennis.

David: Oh, look! It's Holly! Holly likes riding horses. Horse riding is a good hobby.

Red: Horse riding!

David: Yeah... But, Red... the horse is very big...

Red: Riding horse – Red!

David: Aren't you scared of the horse?

Red: No.

David: Are you sure? It's very big... OK, Red, you can give the horse this carrot. Holly! Do you want to come over here?

Holly: Hello, David! Hello, Red!

David: I knew he'd be scared of the horse!

6. In front of the tree

David: I know, Red... You could play a musical instrument.

Red: Errrrr.... No!

David: Then you could join a band.

Red: No, no, no...

David: Or you could join an orchestra.

Red: No, no, no orchestra.

David: Or... maybe you could sing!

Red: Sing?

David: Yes! Sing!

Red: La-la-la-la-la!

David: Oh, look, Red! It's Charlie. He's playing in the tree.

Red: Ohhhh! Tree! --- Climb – tree!

David: Oh, Red... Do you want to climb the tree?

Red: Climb – tree!

David: OK, Red. Try and climb the tree....

David; Good, Red! Good! Look, Charlie, Red's climbing the tree... There he is! Good, Red! Oh, Red, be careful!

David: Oh, Red, are you OK?

Red: I don't like climbing trees.

7. A hobby at last

David: There you are, Red... Are you feeling better?

Red: Red's feeling fine.

David: Really?

Red: Red's hobby – watching television!
