Lily: So you've only got a couple of weeks left then – how do you feel about that?

Holly: Up in the air – that's good for our virtual landlady!

Hannes: Lily, you do really like computers, don't you?

Holly: Are you going to make it back in time to meet us?

Lily: We all have our little secrets, don't we?

Hannes: I don't know. He usually tells me everything! But he just says he's busy.

Lily: I don't know yet, love. Things are still a bit up in the air.

Lily: And what's Nino up to? You said he was disappearing every evening?

Hannes: It's a bit weird really. Now that we are all getting on so well.

Lily: But there's nothing wrong with that. I can be with you there in my kitchen from anywhere in the world.

Lily: Of course I do. That's why I run all these silver surfers clubs – for all the oldies out there who are scared about computers. I show them the world's their oyster at the click of a mouse!
